

Improvement Network for Integrated Care and Support

Living Well in Later Life

Monday 26 & Tuesday 27 October 2015

Heriot Watt University, Edinburgh

The Improvement Network for Integrated Care and Support is delighted to announce an exciting two day learning event for older people and their carers, practitioners and managers from NHS Boards and integration authorities, and colleagues from Third sector, housing and independent sectors.

Living Well in Later Life - Monday 26 October 2015

- Knowledge exchange on progress from Reshaping Care for Older People
- Share learning on new models of primary care and integrated care and support
- Shift the focus from care to enabling wellbeing at home in age friendly communities
- Connect with global examples of good practice

Think Frailty - Tuesday 27 October 2015

- Deeper dive into the complexities of frailty and its impact
- Exploit the synergies from work on dementia, falls, polypharmacy and palliative care
- Strengthen the links and opportunities from the Technology Enabled Care programme
- Connect with global examples of good practice

This is an exciting opportunity for national and international knowledge exchange on Active and Healthy Ageing - It's All our Futures

- Help shape how the Improvement Network will support partnerships to co-create happier and healthier communities for later life
- Hear from the European Innovation Partnership on Active and Healthy Ageing
- Engage with the International Foundation for Integrated Care and the Global Health Academy
- Connect with the WHO Global Strategy on People Centred and Integrated Care.

Please save these dates in your diary. Further details will be issued shortly.
