

The Pain of a New Idea: Overcoming Canada's Biggest Healthcare Challenges

Session presented by Danielle Martin

Danielle's policy expertise and passion for equity have made her a leader in the debate over the future of Canada's health care system, as well as abroad. In 2017, she was asked by the federal Minister of Health to participate in a national review of eight major federally funded Pan-Canadian Health Organizations to make recommendations for their future.

She holds a Masters of Public Policy from the School of Public Policy and Governance at the University of Toronto. Her national bestselling book Better Now: 6 Big Ideas to Improve the Health of all Canadians, was released by Penguin Random House Canada in January 2017.

As a practicing doctor, a hospital administrator, and a policy expert, Danielle offers a unique perspective on health system change. She appears regularly as a medical contributor on CBC television, is a columnist for Châtelaine Magazine and an in-demand speaker on a variety of health and health care topics nationally. In 2017, she was named on Toronto Life's Top 50 Influentials list. For more information about her book and her vision for equity and health system change, visit: www.6bigideas.ca
